British Council

The British Council creates international opportunities for the people of the UK and other countries and builds trust between them worldwide. We are a Royal Charter charity, established as the UK's international organisation for educational opportunities and cultural relations. Our 7,000 staff in over 100 countries work with thousands of professionals and policy makers and millions of young people every year through English, arts, education and society programmes.

The British Council is recognised across India for its network of 9 libraries and cultural centres. We offer a range of specialised projects in arts, education, exams, English language and society to audiences across India and more than 100,000 members. We also provide access to English language training and learning for both students and teachers, offer UK qualifications in India and enable opportunities to study in the UK.

We also manage prestigious scholarships and training awards, including the Jubilee scholarships, the Commonwealth Scholarship and Fellowship Plan and the Charles Wallace India Trust awards. Our English language teaching centres in Chennai, Delhi, Hyderabad and Kolkata provide a range of general and business English classes, specialised skills based programmes and young learner courses. We work with a wide range of Indian partners in cities all over India enabling British and Indian experts to meet and collaborate and to nurture mutually beneficial relationships.

A quarter of our funding comes from a UK government grant and we earn the remainder from services which customers pay for, education and development contracts we bid for, and from partnerships. ## About the International Seminar

The Seminar proposes to focus upon varied aspects of public and transactional laws in India and UK. Public law governs relationships between individuals and the government through mandatory rules and comprises constitutional law, administrative law, tax law, criminal law and procedural law and encompasses legal principles governing the exercise of power by public bodies like government ministers and departments, local authorities etc. Decisions of public bodies significantly impact the lives of the ones facing poverty, discrimination or disadvantage and determine issues like provision of health care or social security benefits etc. In juxtaposition to public law, transactional laws deals with corporate law, securities regulation, mergers and acquisitions, taxation, negotiations, bankruptcy, real estate or regulatory law etc.

The present seminar emphasizes the need and relevance of public and transactional laws and focuses upon the interface between human rights, property rights and other relevant right centered regimes and international laws. It seeks to highlight the developments in the public and transactional laws with reference to UK and India. It is an opportunity to explore the changes that have taken place so that the law teachers and law students can contribute towards enhancement of the ambit of this multi-dimensional approach to the new avenues that are fast becoming relevant in international transactions and human rights. The aim of the Seminar would be to explore the diversities in law in a globalized world.
