CONCEPT NOTE

We are a team of three free journals dealing with Crime and Criminology; Intellectual Property Rights; and Law and Humanities. Whereas DROIT PENAILE: INDIAN LAW JOURNAL ON CRIME AND CRIMINOLOGY (ILJCC) is an already established journal and has organised the 1st NATIONAL SYMPOSIUM, but through this 2nd NATIONAL SYMPOSIUM & AWARDS we are obliged to introduce INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS and LAW AND HUMANITIES in the arena. We organize seminars, symposiums, awards, and free legal aid camps from time to time for the welfare of the society.

DROIT PENAILE and ARJUN DAS GULATI MEMORIAL SOCIETY is organizing two day NATIONAL SYMPOSIUM AND AWARDS on the 22nd & 23rd SEPTEMBER, 2018.

The objective of the seminar is to provide a platform to students of various law schools and members of the allied disciplines to have a qualified discussion on various sub themes revolving around the themes.

Through this symposium, we aspire to generate interest of the students in Criminal Law, Criminology, Intellectual Properties Right, Law & Humanities, its intricate dynamics. This will also act as a platform for the students to interact with other students of varied disciplines, legal luminaries.

INDIAN LAW JOURNAL ON CRIME AND CRIMINOLOGY (ILJCC)

The term DROIT PENAILE translates criminal law & has a French origin and deals with the various facets of crime and criminology. As a huge field of academic study, Criminology tends to cover criminal law and jurisprudence apart from dealing with crimes and criminal and socially deviant behavior of criminals existing in the society. It also deals with the decriminalization processes.

While Criminal law mainly focuses on the punishments coupled or labeled with such a criminal behavior. The ILJCC, a student friendly law journal, has emerged bearing the idea to capitulate an exhaustive approach towards all these fields. It aims at providing a detailed analysis and assimilation of various issues on a single rostrum contrary to the concept of dealing with fields of criminal law and criminology separately.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

As we are rapidly transforming into a knowledge based economy, the need for respecting and protecting the "intellectual capital" of an individual is the need of the era. As words like patent, copyright, trademark etc become a part of our vocabulary they are re-defining the very nature of trade and commerce. The huge increase in the registration of our patents, copyrights coupled with the rise in cases involving infringement of intellectual property is a case in point. Like any evolving concept, Intellectual Property Rights too has its fair share of criticism and controversies, for it involves not just economics but ethics and human rights as well. The aim of this journal is to focus our collective attention on this fascinating subject. The object of this journal is to be a platform where experts, academicians, delegates as well as people at large interact and exchange their ideas and knowledge pertaining to the emerging issues and challenges in the field of IPR.

LAW AND HUMANITIES

In the age of increasing interdisciplinary collaborations, the fields that comprise the humanities are engaging in new ways with law as well as with each other, and projects developed within the context of law schools themselves bear relevance to. In the age of increasing interdisciplinary collaborations, the fields that comprise the humanities are engaging in new ways with law as well as with each other, and projects developed within the context of law schools themselves bear relevance to humanities even internationally. This journal will bring together scholars working at the forefront of legal history, law and literature, law and culture, and critical theory from institutional vantage points of both law and the humanities.
