1st VIPS-IPR DELHI-NCR MOOT COURT

COMPETITION AND STUDENTS' CONFERENCE

ADVOCATES LEGION

In fourteenth century, the Inns of Court started mooting as a simulation exercise to train the lawyers in the rigours of pleading and advocacy. This exercise was slowly and gradually adopted by all the Universities of law. It not only helped in improving academic performance of the students but also enhanced their employability profile. It enhanced their research, analytical skills as well as their ability to learn the law. Nowadays, mooting has evolved with contemporary areas of law. The students are adopting great mooting skills in arguing a matter before an Intellectual Property Appellate Board, Arbitral Tribunal, Competition Commission, Army Tribunal, Family Courts, etc. With new areas of law, students have evolved their tools of research through web sources and are no longer confined to books and judgments.

1st VIPS IPR Delhi NCR Moot Court Competition presents one such simulation exercise in the field of Intellectual Property Rights. Traditional knowledge holds significance in cultural heritage of any country. It gets perturbed, when it is stolen for the purpose of restricting its use by obtaining patent over it. This field of bio-piracy not only infringes the right of a community but also causes economic loss to a nation. This moot brings in such concerns before you for your deliberations over this area of law and possible solutions through mooting.

1st VIPS IPR Students' Conference in Intellectual Property Right in Information Age: Global Response, is a one day conference for the delegates to make presentation in the forthcoming areas of IPR. Some areas like, human rights, GMO's, virtual world, etc. needs specific reflection by the young minds.

The institution would be humbled by your benevolent presence in our campus, through your participation in the moot and conference. We look forward to your positive response.
